Program Description

In the Master of Science in Nursing with a specialization of Executive Nursing, the graduate may exercise leadership in their role as administrator, in diverse health scenarios, in a precise, effective and ethically responsible manner. The graduate will be an administrator capable of assimilating the transformations in the health industry to convert current and future challenges into opportunities by making appropriate decisions, both for the administration and the patient. It will promote the union of thought and action of the members of the nursing or multidisciplinary team that leads, around the projects and processes necessary to respond to the vision and business opportunities.

Program Objectives

1. Use clinical reasoning to apply nursing knowledge to leadership practice.
2. With an emphasis on diversity, equity, and inclusion, provide person-centered care in a variety of delivery settings.
3. Advocate for interventions that maximize cost-effective, accessible, and equitable resources for populations across cultures.
4. Generate, synthesize, and apply nursing knowledge to improve health and transform health care.
5. Provide leadership that enhances quality and minimizes risk of harm to patients and health care providers at the system level.
6. Build collaborative relationships across professions to optimize care and strengthen outcomes.
7. Display ethical behavior that fosters accountability in self and others.
8. Use healthcare technology to promote client health and healing at the systems level.
